Put your communication skills into practice with a European purpose as a working student!

Are you a student interested in communication, social media and digital content? Join our Interreg Baltic Sea Region communication team in Rostock as a working student and gain hands-on experience in an international environment!

We are an EU funding programme that brings organisations from across the Baltic Sea region together to tackle shared challenges as if there were no borders. Our projects help build a greener and more resilient region, and make it an even more attractive place to live and work. They connect people, ideas and expertise from different countries to develop practical solutions with an impact across the region. (Learn more: <https://interreg-baltic.eu/>)

As a working student in our communication team, you will:

- prepare and manage social media content
- collect and organise information
- maintain contact databases
- support in communication research and surveys
- assist with the organisation of events

You will join an international team where English is our working language. You will have opportunities to contribute your own ideas, develop your communication skills and gain practical experience alongside your studies. You will also discover how an EU funding programme works and get to know the projects shaping the future of the Baltic Sea region.

Location: Rostock (A part of the weekly worktime you can work from another location.)

Start: As soon as possible

Weekly working hours: up to 20 hours

Remuneration: 21 Euro/per hour

Duration: 4-6 months

Interested? We would love to hear more from you!
