Has this organisation ever been a partner in the project(s) implemented in the Interreg Baltic Sea Region Programme?

Yes No

State aid relevance

For the partner type selected, the Programme sees a medium to high risk for implementing State aid relevant activities. If the partner is of the opinion that its activities are not State aid relevant, it can ask the MA/JS for a plausibility check on the State aid relevance. Does the partner want to do this?

Yes No

Justification why the partner's activities are not State aid relevant

Please provide detailed justification why the partner's activities are not State aid relevant. For this justification, please consider the State aid criteria as laid down in Article 107(1) of the Treaty for the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU). Please answer the following questions:

- Economic activity: an economic activity is any activity consisting of offering goods, works or services on a market. An economic activity is present if a partner provides goods or services in the context of the project that could be provided by a private operator with the view to making profit (even if this is not the partner's intention within the project). To justify that the partner's activities are not State aid relevant, the partner has to explain why its organisation does not carry out an economic activity as defined above.
- Advantage: an advantage is any economic benefit which an undertaking could not have obtained under normal market conditions, i.e. without the programme co-financing. An advantage is present if a partner is relieved of costs that it would have to pay in the normal course of business, like other organisations that offer similar products and services on the market.

To justify that the partner's activities are not State aid relevant, the partner has to explain why its organisation does not receive an advantage as defined above. The MA/JS will base its assessment of the partner's State aid relevance on your arguments.
